IT'S THE GAME YOU'VE BEEN WAITING FOR...

It's been three weeks since Northern Iowa beat the Wichita State men's basketball team. It was the first regular season Missouri Valley Conference loss since spring 2013 when Creighton beat the Shockers 79-91.

It was that day on Jan. 3 that the Panthers defeated WSU 54-70. But not in our Roundhouse.

Saturday afternoon we say goodbye to two seniors: Tekele Cotton and Darius Carter.

Yet, we welcome ESPN's College GameDay to Wichita. The doubters said it couldn't happen.

Remember, though, that the doubters also said we wouldn't make it to the Final Four. That we wouldn't go undefeated the next season, or that we wouldn't even make it to the NCAA tournament.

But here we are.

Come Saturday, we'll know the top team in the Missouri Valley Conference. If it hasn't been already, the men's basketball team is on the national stage. The same goes for the university and for the Wichita community.

Let's show them who owns this Valley. University of Northern Iowa: You don't wanna got to war.
